Real Voices. Real Impact.

"Having the housing opportunity gave me peace of mind. I didn't have to worry about a safe place to stay and with the support of Eden centers I've been able to prepare for school, and become more confident in my ability to tackle responsibilities without the financial pressure. I am very grateful that great people still exist in this world."

-M.T., a survivor in our Housing Assistance Program

"Eden Centers for Hope & Healing does exactly what their name is. Those impacted by the harms of trafficking find a safe place in Eden."

-Sydney Houlemard, M.S., Director of Special Projects, SVU & GNOHTTF Co-Coordinator

"Eden Centers' commitment to providing victim-centered and trauma-informed care has set it apart as a leader in the anti-trafficking movement. They do not waver in their steadfastness to transforming housing access for trafficking survivors, not only in New Orleans but across Louisiana (and beyond!). I am grateful for their leadership, vision, and unwavering support for the survivors in our great state."

-Mary Kate Andrepont, Director of the Louisiana Office of Human Trafficking Prevention

"Eden Centers provides a place for our clients to feel safe and begin to dream again. We provide everything that one needs to be able to exhale after surviving such immense trauma. The greatest privilege of working at Eden Centers is getting to be a part of a beautiful family, and working to provide each person we meet with a sense of belonging and purpose."

-Stephanie Wilkins, LPC
Chief Clinical Officer at Eden Centers
